Snapshots of Success

Overcoming Life's Obstacles

Upon arriving at Save the Family, Clare and her family had lost everything – their four-bedroom home to foreclosure, steady income from their jobs at a family business, and all their belongings due to the inability to pay storage fees.

To make income, Clare's partner, Kip, made a terrible decision and was now facing legal trouble. Clare spent the last of their savings while Kip awaited trial and sentencing. They were worried that they would be separated if anyone found out how they were living from motel to motel and out of their car.

When Kip was sentenced to prison, Clare and the kids were devastated. With nowhere to turn, Clare and her children ended up living in an abandoned warehouse. Clare and her children finally made their way to a homeless shelter, where they lived for three months before coming to Save the Family. Clare immediately took advantage of all of the classes and supportive services available to her. With she and her children safely housed, Clare could focus on getting a job that would support her family.

Clare landed a job and started building her savings. Her experience and can-do attitude help her advance in her job during her stay with Save the Family. At last count, Clare had saved more than $25,000 during our two-year, transitional housing program! She is working hard to ensure that she and her children are never homeless again and have since reunited with their father. Clare says she doesn't know where she and her children would be without Save the Family.

Clare's story, and her ability to persevere while coping with traumatic life events led to her eventual success. She epitomizes the strength our families have in the overcoming their own traumatic experiences related their homelessness.

Please consider supporting Save the Family as we give the gift of hope to hundreds of families, like Clare's, this year. Your generosity will ensure we are able to realize our vision to support stable homes, safe children, and strong families.
