Hardworking families in our community are facing more challenges today than ever before.

Stephanie, a single mother with a 3-year old daughter, was one of those families. Stephanie and her daughter have been homeless off and on for more than 4 years. This young mom was a victim of domestic violence, and the abuse she experienced was unimaginable. To complicate matters, Stephanie suffers from a serious medical condition that, if untreated, makes it hard for her to keep a job. She came to Save the Family with years of unaddressed trauma and wanted to make a better life for her daughter.

Thanks to supporters like you, Stephanie and her daughter got the help they need to survive – and thrive.

Stephanie entered the program unemployed but quickly began working with Save the Family’s Career Development Center to find full-time employment. We helped her access the medical care and counseling she needs to stay healthy. Stephanie soon landed a job working fulltime for a debt relief program. When COVID-19 hit, Stephanie was worried she’d lose her job. Instead, her employer helped get her set up to work from home. Now she’s gainfully employed, taking care of her daughter and staying on track in her journey to self-sufficiency.

At Save the Family, nearly one-third of the families we serve are victims of domestic violence.

These families escape danger at the hands of a loved one and find safe refuge at Save the Family. Today, Stephanie and her daughter have moved on from Save the Family and are living in an apartment of their own. They are making it, and for once, Stephanie has the tools, resources, and support system to stay on track.

Please help families like Stephanie’s get the fresh start they need to build a better life. Make a gift to Save the Family today!
